

Public Health Department

1- Scientific research Methods

The course provides basics on types of research studies and good research practice. Candidates will learn the uses of epidemiology in clinical settings, how to compare diagnostic techniques, descriptive statistical methods, tabulation and presentation of data and algorithm of how to choose your statistics test. This training course will also include basic theoretical material, case studies and assignments.

Duration: 6 days

Fees: 1000EGP for Egyptians /1000 US$for non Egyptians

